

ENGLAND BOXING

ANNUAL REPORT
2023-2024

The Chairman's Report

Welcome to the 2024 AGM

Dear Members,

I'm pleased to report on another year of considerable progress and achievement at England Boxing. As ever there have been challenges to the sport and to our organisation, both domestically and internationally, and so we can all be proud of the work that we have done to build the structure for continued success.

A key part of our strategy is to promote boxing to potential new members so that the sport can grow and thrive throughout the country. I can report that the number of registered boxers has now reached record levels with 22,500 registered boxers compared to 20,000 last year. We now have over 1,000 registered clubs at the heart of communities up and down the country providing facilities, coaching and general support to make the sport popular, safe and accessible.

As well as expanding our clubs and membership activity we have continued to develop our talent and pathway programme. This area continues to thrive, evidenced by the numerous international medals we are proudly celebrating. This success is a testament not only to the exceptional talent we have helped to cultivate but also to the depth and quality of the sport in England. At club level we are fortunate to have leaders who inspire and coaches who go above and beyond the sport, offering invaluable support to our boxers both in and out of the ring. Their guidance helps shape not just accomplished athletes, but also well-rounded individuals, prepared to tackle challenges in all aspects of life

At the top of the performance tree is the elite squad that take part in the Olympics through the GB Boxing programme, and this year we enjoyed watching the boxing in Paris. The Olympic Games is an incredibly tough tournament and while this wasn't a classic year for us we can be very proud of the performances of our boxers. In particular Lewis Richardson boxed superbly and showed all of his experience in one of the most competitive weight classes in the competition to secure a very well-deserved bronze medal, and we are so happy to see Cindy Ngamba (who trains with GB) also secure a bronze and make history by becoming the first person in a history to win a medal for the Refugee Olympic Team.

Lewis Richardson, Paris 2024

Another of our important strategy initiatives is the England Boxing Apprentice Scheme that has now completed its second year. Created in 2022 in partnership with Coach Core, the aim is to upskill youngsters aged between 16 -25 who have been selected from all over the country taking into account many factors, including socio-economic circumstances, background and ethnicity. Such has been the success of this scheme that it has been named “Apprenticeship Programme of the Year” at The Learning Awards in February 2024. This is the highest accolade you can receive in workplace learning and development and showcases your National Governing Body’s dedication to fostering a culture of continuous learning and professional growth.

Apprentice Programme

On the international stage we have been working hard on our drive to keep boxing on the programme for the 2028 Olympic Games. As we have previously reported we have long had serious issues regarding the integrity of the IBA for many years and it has now lost its recognition by the International Olympic Committee and this seriously threatens boxing's Olympic status in the future. England Boxing is a founder member of World Boxing, the new body that has been formed by like-minded nations who wish to keep boxing Olympic and this now has over 45 member nations from around the globe. We have been working with the recently formed international federation to create new international competitions and as part of that England will host the inaugural World Boxing Championships Finals in September 2025 in Liverpool.

Once again I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to our volunteers in Clubs and Regions, our coaches, doctors, and the dedicated staff of England Boxing for their tireless efforts to keep the sport thriving. Their unwavering support has enabled our boxers to continue to enjoy participation in our sport. These individuals serve and inspire our athletes every day, demonstrating remarkable commitment, passion, and resilience, especially in these challenging times.

I am extremely proud to be part of this winning team. Together, we are England Boxing – supporting the infrastructure of boxing in England. We wish you all well for the coming year and I thank you for your continued and valued support.

England Boxing Chief Executive's Report

The past year has been marked by significant consolidation and advancement at the Sheffield headquarters of England Boxing. Building on the transformative changes of previous years, we have focused on embedding new practices, fostering team cohesion, and enhancing the overall professionalism of our organisation to deliver on our strategic objectives.

This year, our efforts have centred around refining and optimizing our working practices and especially introducing new tools and technologies to improve our services.

A key milestone this year has been the introduction of our new CRM system, The Locker, which will serve as the cornerstone of our efforts to improve competition management and provide meaningful services to athletes. This innovative platform is designed to streamline operations, enhance communication, and deliver a more personalized experience for our members, ensuring they receive the support they need at every level and function of the sport of Boxing.

Also, by identifying areas of success and potential improvement, we have been able to maintain our momentum and drive forward with purpose. The continued support from Sport England has been instrumental, enabling us to expand our reach and impact both at the grassroots level and within our talent pathway programme at the elite level.

In governance, we have built upon the solid foundation established last year, further strengthening our policies and practices in compliance and safeguarding. These enhancements have led to more streamlined and effective handling of safeguarding issues and conduct reports, ensuring that our sport remains safe, inclusive, and well-regulated for all participants.

Looking ahead, our efforts will be fully dedicated to go into the last important phases of the strategy we launched in 2021. This plan is focused on driving growth and making investments that will pave the way for England Boxing's future success. Our strategy is firmly grounded in the sport of boxing, placing the boxer at the core of all our initiatives, and it is being actively brought to life by our vibrant boxing community. Our key priorities include not only increasing participation but also enhancing the overall experience for our athletes. We are also committed to advancing our journey in diversity, equity, and inclusion with innovative initiatives that push the boundaries.

We are happy to report as one of the sporting national governing bodies, we have been required to agree a diversity and inclusion action plan (DIAP) which we will announce soon. The plan is going to be ambitious and robust and set out clearly how we will work to improve diversity and inclusion across our whole organisation.

This report gives an overview of our progress or the past year.

England Boxing Strategic Plan

The organisation is now into its third year of our 5-year strategic plan (2022 – 2027) with a vision to 'Inspire & Transform Lives through Boxing', marking the halfway point of this current strategy cycle.

The last year represents one of unprecedented growth and development within our sport that we are very proud of and appreciative to our members, volunteers and staff for their help in making possible.

With the introduction of our new CRM system - The Locker - & the use of Digital BCR1's, we have been able to ensure the long-term sustainability of our sport whilst simultaneously providing greater level of benefits to our members. National Championships

The conclusion of England Boxing's 2023/2024 Championship season highlights the remarkable dedication and effort of everyone involved, including boxers, coaches, clubs, regions, officials, volunteers, and England Boxing staff. 1,900+ participants competed (74% male and 26% female) over 17 national event days, ultimately leading to the crowning of 370 National Champions.

We hope that the investment in larger, more suitable venues, along with improved and streamlined planning, on-site processes, and communications for the 2023/2024 season, has significantly enhanced the experience for all attendees.

Our Online Presence

England Boxing's digital presence has grown significantly over the past year, particularly on Instagram, where the platform has gained more than 25,000 new followers and featured a reel that garnered over 5.1 million views.

We have continued to shift our focus when it comes to digital channels and content creation, as there has been a real emphasis on creating quality pieces that are tailored to the different audiences present on each platform - bearing in mind current trends too.

Both domestic and international tournaments still tend to be the most popular times on the pages, which has caused the communications team to apply a different approach altogether. All performance/Team England athletes competing at international events are now photographed in advance and digital assets are created in order to engage the fans further in their success.

In terms of the Championships that are hosted on home soil, live scores are posted on the website throughout the day alongside behind-the-scenes clips and short form videos on social channels – providing a highlight reel of any action that occurs. This again, has been done to bring audiences one step closer to those competing.

During this coverage, a range of boxers are shown from all backgrounds, ensuring many communities are represented and role models are highlighted for the next generation of the sport.

The look and feel of the brand has also changed over the course of the year, allowing for an update and slight modernisation of graphics to keep to an industry standard across the sector and be viewed as a valued and respected NGB.

Partnerships with sponsors have also been utilised, Boxxer in particular has allowed us to consider professional boxers as Brand Ambassadors for our organisation. The likes of Ben Whittaker, Frazer Clarke, Johnny Nelson, Anthony Ogogo, Tasha Jonas and many others have featured on our pages for a number of events and campaigns showcasing the role models within the sport and inspiring youngsters.

Both national and regional coverage has also been achieved, journalists and news broadcasters have shown a keen interest in England Boxing's community initiatives and events with the likes of Sky Sports, BBC, ITV and other local outlets having featured the brand.

Workforce

It has been a busy year for the workforce team, with a large increase in the demand for courses and the transition of courses to The Locker. During August we moved all courses over from the Booking Hound platform directly on to the Locker, and this is something that is an ongoing developmental process whilst we learn all the functions and what it can provide us with to continue to develop courses and coaches. During this process we also had to create a new process for printing lanyards, using new software and design templates. Along with redesigning the cards themselves, and introducing new card holders and lanyards the team have printed 3000 lanyards since the 1st June 2024.

We have also been working hard over the past 12 months to ensure all our coaches are fully qualified at the level required of them in their club. This has increased the need for the Level 1 refresher course, and our two tutors have done a great job in more than doubling the amount of courses they usually deliver in order to ensure all coaches can access their next step qualification. We have also supported the coaches and clubs by offering a dispensation period until December 31st 2024 to allow coaches who held an in date lanyard in 2023/2024 to ensure they are up to date with all their qualifications. The team once again has seen a huge increase in workload to meet the demands of the membership and the support that they need.

The past 12 months has also seen us move all the verification of qualifications and printing of lanyards to the workforce team. All printing and posting all takes place from the office in Sheffield with the exception of the army, who still print their own using our new processes. All qualifications also have newly designed certificates, which again are issued centrally by the workforce team

After the progress made with the coach educator workforce, we advertised to recruit new tutors for some of our CPD courses. We advertised and shortlisted for Box In Mind, Boxing Activator and KO discrimination. Tutor training has taken place for two of these courses, and the third we are looking at in conjunction with an EDI course, and will tutor train for this once the alignment is complete. We are also continuing with tutor training for new Level 1 tutors, and tutors moving from Level 1 to Level 2.

We have started the process of aligning educators of officials to the same process that took place with our coach educators. The accreditation paperwork, contract and expenses policy are all in place, and we are in the process of getting this finalised with the educators before we look at the next stage of officials development. Our coach educators have all been provided with kit to wear when they deliver, and once they have completed the tutor training process they are issued an England Boxing Coach Educator certificate.

To date we have delivered 67 level 1 courses to over 1000 coaches, delivered 16 level 2 courses to 210 coaches and we have a full course of 20 participants on the 2023/2024 Level 3 Cohort. We also have 40 new applications to be shortlisted for cohort 3

In November we will be running our Workforce conference, which has a specific focus on both EDI and Women and Girls, and the expression of interest to book onto this conference has already surpassed our expectations.

We continue to deliver women specific initiatives around officials, schools and coaches and these programmes are always high in demand.

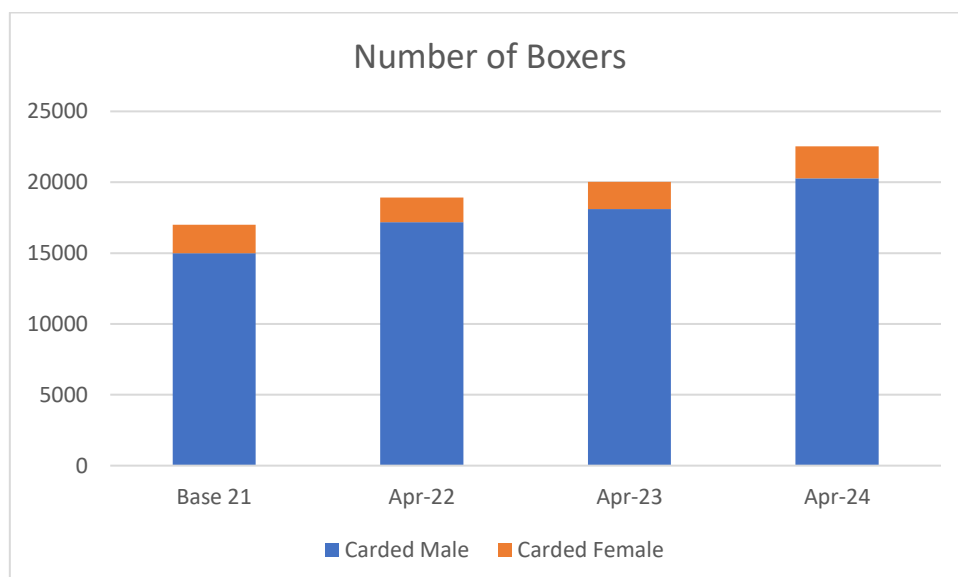

We are also researching and developing EDI specific policies around para-boxing, and transgender. These are very developmental to ensure we are able to support the entire membership and deliver the best service that we can.

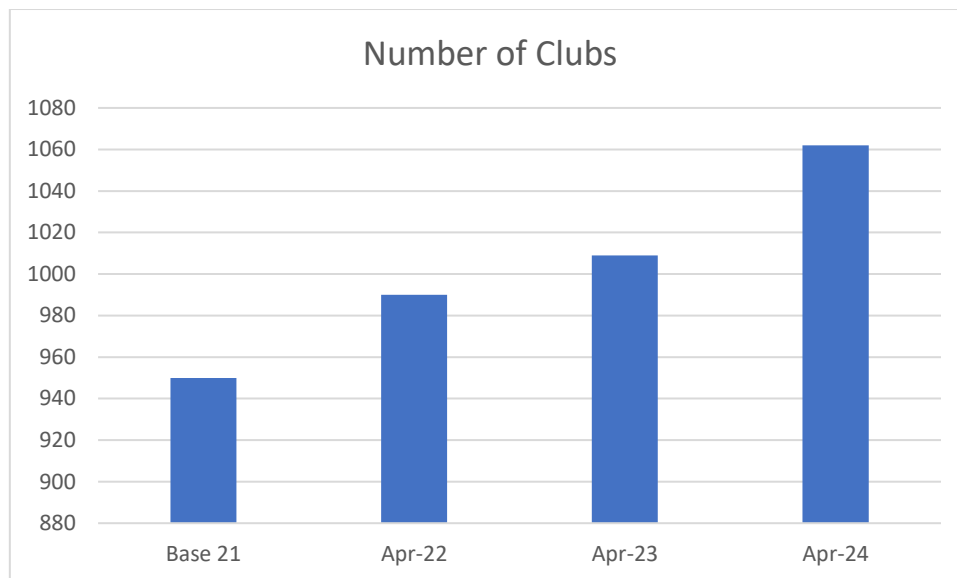

Finally, we are recruiting currently for a workforce working group. These are volunteer roles, and we are looking for this group to help drive what our qualifications look like, what the structure looks like to both sector and participant, and ensuring the qualification offer matches the need. This will include formal qualifications and CPD options to help keep our workforce continually learning where they need to

It has been a really busy year for workforce, and we will continue over the next 12 months to make sure that qualifications, CPD, informal learning and support for the membership is as effective as possible.

Membership and Members

The 2023-24 season saw our membership grow from strength to strength, with the number of affiliated clubs rising to 1062 and membership over 29,000 which see's our sport in a stronger position than ever. The support provided by regions, clubs, officials, coaches, boxers and volunteers has been immeasurable, and continues to unite and build our expanding boxing family.

This year, England Boxing took a significant step forward in our digital transformation journey with the introduction of our new Customer Relationship Management (CRM) system, The Locker. This innovative platform is revolutionising how we are managing and engaging with our members, clubs, and stakeholders, bringing England Boxing up to date in the digital world.

The Locker has streamlined administrative processes, making it easier for clubs and members to register, renew memberships, and access vital information. The intuitive user interface and centralised database will significantly reduce manual workloads for staff and volunteers, enabling our team & members to focus more on supporting the future growth and development of boxing across the country.

One of the key benefits of The Locker is its ability to provide real-time data and insights. This allows for more informed decision-making and better tracking of member engagement, participation trends, and club performance. Furthermore, the system has enhanced communication capabilities, facilitating more direct and efficient interactions between England Boxing and its affiliates.

The introduction of The Locker also reflects our commitment to sustainability by reducing the need for paper-based processes and enabling a more environmentally friendly approach to administration. Additionally, the system's robust security features ensure that all member data is protected in compliance with current data protection regulations.

Lastly, the roll-out of The Locker has enabled us to introduce new benefits to our members, including a rolling 12-month membership, an updated & simplified membership tier system, and the issuing of E-passes so that members can access a broad range of benefits in significantly less time.

Performance

Year	Major International Medals
2019	27 Major International Medals (3 competitions)
2020 / 2021	Did not attend due to Covid pandemic
2022	45 Major International Medals (5 competitions)
2023	35 Major International Medals (3 competitions)
2024	20 Major International Medals (3 competitions)

In 2024, England Boxing continued to deliver strong international performances. A majority of Team GB's boxing representatives at the Paris 2024 Olympics (86%) came through the England Boxing pathway, with English boxer Lewis Richardson securing the sole medal for GB. Additionally, it is important to highlight Cindy Ngamba, who became the first-ever Olympic medallist representing the Refugee Olympic Team. Cindy, who has trained in England and won multiple national titles, is a testament to the inspirational and aspirational nature of our talent pathway.

At the three major competitions held so far, we have sustained our medal-winning success, with the U-19 World Championships still to come. This achievement is particularly impressive given the challenges in the international boxing landscape, including ongoing governance issues and the return of Russian athletes to competition. Despite these difficulties, we have maintained a medal return rate of over half the boxers who competed, with an average of seven medals per major competition. Our focus remains on long-term athlete development, with the aim of achieving sustained success and progress through the pathway.

In addition to these major competitions, England Boxing has continued to provide invaluable international competition opportunities for our pathway boxers. Highlighted by the fact that every performance boxer will compete in at least one international event this year. This year so far, England Boxing has had 116 boxers compete in a total of 267 international bouts, winning 173 (65%) of these. This has resulted in 127 international medals, 58 of which were gold. Furthermore, we have won every three-nation, national, and international dual event in which we have participated.

This report also provides an opportunity to summarise the success of the England senior programme in its inaugural year. Of the 17 boxers on the programme, nine earned places on the GB world-class programme, with one boxer qualifying for the Olympic Games. These athletes competed across 10 international competitions, participating in 98 bouts (with 66 wins) and winning 54 medals, including 32 golds.

This highlights the programme's effectiveness in filling a critical pathway gap, preventing boxers from leaving the sport or turning professional too early, while simultaneously developing senior athletes to a high standard and increasing their exposure for future growth. Ongoing expert sports science support continues to play a crucial role. As we aim to further develop the pathway, we have introduced a development programme and discussions are ongoing about establishing an England Boxing dedicated high-performance centre.

Furthermore, in supporting our boxers, our application for DiSE places received a fantastic allocation of 100 learners, one of the largest in the country. So far, our athlete funding applications have also been extremely successful, securing £57,000, which goes directly to boxers to help them excel in the sport. In addition, all senior boxers have been granted TASS support, which is highly valuable and delivered via individual sports science services.

In 2024, we have spearheaded coach development initiatives. These include the progression of our coach mentorship programme, a learning partnership with Aston Villa Football Club, and the continuation of our world-class CPD days. The coach mentorship phase involved 10 successful applicants, each assigned a mentor for regular monthly contact and on-camp monitoring from January to August 2024 before progressing to becoming a pathway coach. Aston Villa FC and England Boxing collaborated through three online meetings and two community practice gatherings, identifying five key areas for coach and athlete development, involving nearly 30 England Boxing coaches. Coach development days included online and in-person gatherings, with expert-led sessions covering topics such as REDS, periodisation, and feedback, with more sessions planned. With high engagement, 95% of pathway coaches are projected to participate in CPD activities for 2024, alongside new coaches leading programme delivery and attending major competitions for the first time.

Financial

Last year's AGM report highlighted the significant challenges faced by the organisation in navigating inflation and cost-of-living crisis, which placed immense pressure on England Boxing's ability to maintain day to day operations without compromising service quality.

Despite these challenges, England Boxing's level of activity has surpassed pre COVID-19 levels, resulting in increased income, a rise in coaching course participants and new member sign-ups. However, the inflation rate at the end of the 2023 financial year stood at 10.1%, with an average of 10.4% throughout the year. This inflationary pressure negatively impacted all areas of England Boxing's operations, leading to higher costs for expenses such as hosting boxing competitions, flights for the England team to compete abroad and securing venues for coaching courses. Throughout the year, the organisation (with support from Sport England) continued to invest in community initiatives, boxing activities and the Talent/Performance team while maintaining service quality. However, these efforts resulted in a year-end deficit of £33,294.

Looking ahead, the finance department is committed to working closely with other departments to enhance efficiency, effectiveness and continuous improvement.

Governance

England Boxing aims to have a diverse board of directors who are appointed on merit through an open recruitment process designed to provide the professional skills and experience necessary to formulate policy and make appropriate business decisions.

BDO Audit: England Boxing is a Sport England funded partner. Our Funding Agreement sets out that we can be selected for an independent review. Sport England have commissioned BDO In July 2022 to undertake a Governance Review and a report was finalised in January/February 2023. The Board is currently implementing the remaining recommendations from the report, one is the Independent Board Review, which is going to be completed in September 2024 by the Sport and Recreation Alliance.

3 Vacancies were filled by following the Board Recruitment process as described in the Board Succession Policy.

Following the Governance Code Gap Report by Sport England, the Board Biographies are now published on the website as recommended by the Code for Good Governance.

The Board Member positions are voluntary and receive no remuneration.

Clean Sport

For the 2023-24 season no Anti-Doping Rule Violations (ADRVs) have been reported to England Boxing. An ADRV includes positive tests for a banned substance as well as ten potential violations for boxers and seven of these for athlete support personal (ASP). For context, in an Olympic year, the International Testing Agency reported five ADRVs from the 'games time period' from four sports, with one ADRV for a Nigerian boxer. UKAD have completed 73 out-of-competition tests on amateur boxers from 01 April 2023 to 31 March 2024, targeted at GB boxers in the UK.

At the end of the 2023-24 season UKAD have updated the National TUE \(Therapeutic Use Exemption\) Pools for all UK sports. Amateur Boxing is unchanged with England's National Senior Squad for men and women making up Tier 3 of the Pool. This squad and their 'core ASP influencers' are mandatory groups to receive clean sport education under UKAD's Assurance Framework and WADA's International Standard for Education (ISE). England Boxing now have three qualified Educators to deliver this education and advice, overseen by the newly appointed Compliance and Safeguarding Manager, Anthony Sheppard, who has taken over the Anti-Doping Lead (ADL) role.

Education has been provided to 17 boxers and 'core ASP influencers' in 2023-24 with the expectation that this education will expand down the performance pathway. England Boxing also has free access to a range of e-Learning on UKAD's Clean Sport Hub. The Clean Sport Annual Submission to UKAD, as part of the Assurance Framework requirements, was made in April 2024 and seeks to clarify the structure of education provision across England Boxing's athlete pathway. Updates to the Clean Sport Implementation Plan support this education and will be in place for autumn 2024.

STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR
ENDED 31 MARCH 2023

Accounting policies Company information

England Boxing Limited is a private company limited by guarantee incorporated in England and Wales. The registered office is English Institute of Sport, Coleridge Road, Sheffield, S9 5DA.

1.1 Accounting convention

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with FRS 102 "The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland" ("FRS 102") and the requirements of the Companies Act 2006 as applicable to companies subject to the small companies regime. The disclosure requirements of section 1A of FRS 102 have been applied other than where additional disclosure is required to show a true and fair view.

The financial statements are prepared in sterling, which is the functional currency of the company. Monetary amounts in these financial statements are rounded to the nearest£.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention. The principal accounting policies adopted are set out below.

2.1 Income and expenditure

The income of the company consists of clubs' and individual's affiliation and registration fees, grants and donations, together with monies raised from tournaments and the sales of goods towards running boxing events.

Affiliation and registration fees are payable annually, accounted for when notified by the individual clubs that they are due and deferred to the extent that the affiliation income relates to the following financial year.

3.1 Tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are initially measured at cost and subsequently measured at cost or valuation, net of depreciation and any impairment losses.

Depreciation is recognised so as to write off the cost or valuation of assets less their residual values over their useful lives on the following bases:

Plant and equipment Fixtures and fittings

20% straight line

20 - 25% straight line

The gain or loss arising on the disposal of an asset is determined as the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying value of the asset, and is credited or charged to surplus or deficit.

4.1 Impairment of fixed assets

At each reporting period end date, the company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

5.1 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents are basic financial assets and include cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities.

Accounting policies

1.1 Financial instruments

Basic financial assets

Basic financial assets, which include debtors and cash and bank balances, are initially measured at transaction price including transaction costs and are subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where the transaction is measured at the present value of the future receipts discounted at a market rate of interest.

Financial assets classified as receivable within one year are not amortised.

Classification of financial liabilities

Financial liabilities and equity instruments are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into. An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the entity that is not a liability.

Basic financial liabilities

Basic financial liabilities, including creditors, bank loans, loans from fellow group companies and preference shares that are classified as debt, are initially recognised at transaction price unless the arrangement constitutes a financing transaction, where the debt instrument is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest. Financial liabilities classified as payable within one year are not amortised.

Debt instruments are subsequently carried at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method.

Trade creditors are obligations to pay for goods or services that have been acquired in the ordinary course of business from suppliers. Amounts payable are classified as current liabilities if payment is due within one year or less. If not, they are presented as non-current liabilities. Trade creditors are recognised initially at transaction price and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

2.1 Taxation

Taxation for the year comprises current and deferred tax. Tax is recognised in the Income Statement, except to the extent that it relates to items recognised in other comprehensive income or directly in equity.

Current or deferred taxation assets and liabilities are not discounted.

Current tax is recognised at the amount of tax payable using the tax rates and laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date.

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of all timing differences that have originated but not reversed at the balance sheet date.

3.1 Employee benefits

The costs of short-term employee benefits are recognised as a liability and an expense, unless those costs are required to be recognised as part of the cost of stock or fixed assets.

The cost of any unused holiday entitlement is recognised in the period in which the employee's services are received.

Termination benefits are recognised immediately as an expense when the company is demonstrably committed to terminate the employment of an employee or to provide termination benefits.

4.1 Retirement benefits

Payments to defined contribution retirement benefit schemes are charged as an expense as they fall due.

1.1 Leases

Rentals payable under operating leases, including any lease incentives received, are charged to profit or loss on a straight line basis over the term of the relevant lease except where another more systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern in which economic benefits from the leases asset are consumed.

2.1 Honorarium

An honorarium is an ex gratia payment made to a person for their services in a volunteer capacity, or for services for which fees are not traditionally or legally required.

An honorarium is typically a payment made on a special or non-routine basis to an individual who is not an employee of the company, to recognise or acknowledge the contribution of gratuitous services to the company_

2 Judgements and key sources of estimation uncertainty

In the application of the company's accounting policies, the directors are required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about the carrying amount of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised where the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods where the revision affects both current and future periods.
